

Exhibit J

DRAM Antitrust Litigation
c/o Complete Claim Solutions, Inc.
P.O. Box 24657
West Palm Beach, FL 33416

XXX

«compute_0007»
«compute_0008»
«compute_0009»«compute_0010»
«compute_0011»
«compute_0012», «compute_0013» «compute_0014»

Re: Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM) Antitrust Litigation

Dear XXX:

On or about XXX, you filed a Claim Form in the above captioned Settlement in the amount of XXX. A "Notice of Claim Adjustment" letter was mailed to you on March 3, 2008. The "Notice of Claim Adjustment" letter, among other things, advised that your Claim was being reduced to XXX unless you supplied adequate documentation by April 4, 2009. Adequate documentation was defined as "invoices, cancelled checks and/or other documentation showing the placing, fulfillment and payment of an order."

The "Class" is defined as "all individuals or entities who, during the period beginning April 1, 1999 and continuing through June 30, 2002 (the "Class Period"), purchased DRAM in the United States from the defendants or their subsidiaries." After careful review of the documentation supplied, it has been determined that some of the purchases claimed were purchased from a company other than one of the Defendants or their subsidiaries.

As a result, the final claim total for [Claimant Name] is XXX.

Very truly yours,

Robin Niemiec
Project Manager

DRAM Antitrust Litigation
c/o Complete Claim Solutions, Inc.
P.O. Box 24657
West Palm Beach, FL 33416

XXX

«compute_0007»
«compute_0008»
«compute_0009»«compute_0010»
«compute_0011»
«compute_0012», «compute_0013» «compute_0014»

Re: Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM) Antitrust Litigation

Dear XXX:

On or about XXX, you filed a Claim Form in the above captioned Settlement in the amount of XXX. A "Notice of Claim Adjustment" letter was mailed to you on March 3, 2008. The "Notice of Claim Adjustment" letter, among other things, advised that your Claim was being reduced to XXX unless you supplied adequate documentation by April 4, 2009. Adequate documentation was defined as "invoices, cancelled checks and/or other documentation showing the placing, fulfillment and payment of an order." You did not provide adequate documentation as requested for your entire claim.

As a result, the final claim total for [Claimant Name] is XXX.

Very truly yours,

Robin Niemiec
Project Manager

DRAM Antitrust Litigation
c/o Complete Claim Solutions, Inc.
P.O. Box 24657
West Palm Beach, FL 33416

XXX

«compute_0007»
«compute_0008»
«compute_0009»«compute_0010»
«compute_0011»
«compute_0012», «compute_0013» «compute_0014»

Re: Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM) Antitrust Litigation

Dear XXX:

On or about XXX, you filed a Claim Form in the above captioned Settlement. A “Notice of Claim Adjustment” letter was mailed to you on March 3, 2008. The “Notice of Claim Adjustment” letter, among other things, advised that your Claim was being reduced to XXX unless you supplied adequate documentation by April 4, 2009. Adequate documentation was defined as “invoices, cancelled checks and/or other documentation showing the placing, fulfillment and payment of an order.”

The “Class” is defined as “all individuals or entities who, during the period beginning April 1, 1999 and continuing through June 30, 2002 (the “Class Period”), purchased DRAM in the United States...” After careful review of the documentation supplied, it has been determined that a portion of your claims was not for DRAM purchased in the United States and therefore does not fall within the Class definition as ordered by the Court.

As a result, the final claim total for [Claimant Name] is XXX.

Very truly yours,

Robin Niemiec
Project Manager

DRAM Antitrust Litigation
c/o Complete Claim Solutions, Inc.
P.O. Box 24657
West Palm Beach, FL 33416

XXX

«compute_0007»
«compute_0008»
«compute_0009»«compute_0010»
«compute_0011»
«compute_0012», «compute_0013» «compute_0014»

Re: Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM) Antitrust Litigation

Dear XXX:

On or about XXX you filed a Claim Form in the above captioned Settlement. A “Notice of Claim Adjustment” letter was mailed to you on March 3, 2008. The “Notice of Claim Adjustment” letter, among other things, advised that your Claim was being reduced to XXX unless you supplied adequate documentation by April 4, 2008. Adequate documentation was defined as “invoices, cancelled checks and/or other documentation showing the placing, fulfillment and payment of an order.”

The “Class” is defined as “all individuals or entities who, during the period beginning April 1, 1999 and continuing through June 30, 2002 (the “Class Period”), purchased DRAM in the United States...” After careful review of the documentation supplied, it has been determined that a portion of your claims was not for DRAM purchased in the United States and therefore does not fall within the Class definition as ordered by the Court.

In addition, a portion of your claim represents purchases made from a company other than one of their Defendants or their subsidiaries.

As a result, the final claim total for [Claimant Name] is XXX.

Very truly yours,

Robin Niemiec
Project Manager

DRAM Antitrust Litigation
c/o Complete Claim Solutions, Inc.
P.O. Box 24657
West Palm Beach, FL 33416

XXX

«compute_0007»
«compute_0008»
«compute_0009»«compute_0010»
«compute_0011»
«compute_0012», «compute_0013» «compute_0014»

Re: Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM) Antitrust Litigation

Dear XXX:

On or about XXX you filed a Claim Form in the above captioned Settlement. A “Notice of Claim Adjustment” letter was mailed to you on March 3, 2008. The “Notice of Claim Adjustment” letter, among other things, advised that your Claim was being reduced to XXX unless you supplied adequate documentation by April 4, 2009. Adequate documentation was defined as “invoices, cancelled checks and/or other documentation showing the placing, fulfillment and payment of an order.”

Over the course of the last several months, we have communicated in regard to this matter. This letter is to confirm that the Claim Amount of $XXX has been accepted.

Very truly yours,

Robin Niemiec
Project Manager

DRAM Antitrust Litigation
c/o Complete Claim Solutions, Inc.
P.O. Box 24657
West Palm Beach, FL 33416

XXX

«compute_0007»
«compute_0008»
«compute_0009»«compute_0010»
«compute_0011»
«compute_0012», «compute_0013» «compute_0014»

Re: Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM) Antitrust Litigation

Dear XXX:

On or about XXX, you filed a Claim Form in the above captioned Settlement. A “Notice of Claim Adjustment” letter was mailed to you on March 3, 2008. The “Notice of Claim Adjustment” letter, among other things, advised that your Claim was being reduced to XXX unless you supplied adequate documentation by April 4, 2009. Adequate documentation was defined as “invoices, cancelled checks and/or other documentation showing the placing, fulfillment and payment of an order.”

As we have previously discussed, it was deemed that XXX settled with one or all of the Defendants in this matter.

As a result, the final claim total for [Claimant Name] is XXX.

Very truly yours,

Robin Niemiec
Project Manager

DRAM Antitrust Litigation
c/o Complete Claim Solutions, Inc.
P.O. Box 24657
West Palm Beach, FL 33416

XXX

«compute_0007»
«compute_0008»
«compute_0009»«compute_0010»
«compute_0011»
«compute_0012», «compute_0013» «compute_0014»

Re: Dynamic Random Access Memory (DRAM) Antitrust Litigation

Dear XXX:

On or about XXX, you filed a Claim Form in the above captioned Settlement. A “Notice of Claim Adjustment” letter was mailed to you on March 3, 2008. The “Notice of Claim Adjustment” letter, among other things, advised that your Claim was being reduced to XXX unless you supplied adequate documentation by April 4, 2008. Adequate documentation was defined as “invoices, cancelled checks and/or other documentation showing the placing, fulfillment and payment of an order.”

The “Class” is defined as “all individuals or entities who, during the period beginning April 1, 1999 and continuing through June 30, 2002 (the “Class Period”), purchased DRAM in the United States from the defendants or their subsidiaries.” After careful review of the documentation supplied, it has been determined that some of the purchases claimed were purchased from a company other than one of the Defendants or their subsidiaries. Spektek was not acquired by Micron until April 1, 2001. Therefore, any purchases from Spektek prior to this date are not eligible for this Settlement.

As a result, the final claim total for [Claimant Name] is XXX.

Very truly yours,

Robin Niemiec
Project Manager